

What is the Children with Special Health Care Needs Program?

The Children with Special Health Care Needs Program has been helping West Virginia families since 1937. It is a part of the Office of Maternal, Child and Family Health. The program was created to help families who have children with conditions that need special care.

We have registered nurses and social workers who help you every step of the way until your child's 21st birthday.

How do I get Help?

Contact the Children with Special Health Care Needs Program and we will help you apply for our services.

Our program will put you in contact with a nurse and social worker who will help you and your doctor:

- Plan for your child's medical care
- Organize and find resources to help your child's health
- Meet your child's special needs close to home
- Understand insurance to get the most out of your benefits

What are Special Needs?

The CSHCN Program can help you with many different illnesses. We will work with your doctor to see if your child's condition can be helped by the program's services.

What We Do

When your child needs help, you can feel helpless and scared, and trying to figure out what to do is so confusing.

We understand what you're going through and we are here to help. The Children with Special Health Care Needs Program works to ensure access to comprehensive, coordinated services and supports in a patient/family-centered medical home.
